

NORTHERN LIGHTS

Juno

A blend of sculptural forms and natural materials, Juno presents a sense of drama created by light that disperses through the fitting's architecture. The result is intriguing patterns of light and shadow. The angular design has a more sculptural presence, while the curved version has a subtle and soft silhouette with an organic feel.

DPA LIGHTING

The Place

DPA Lighting has worked alongside Dutch architects Mecanoo to complete the lighting scheme of The Place, Tainan. The design reflects the local culture with a Dutch twist, resulting in vibrant public spaces. Natural daylight is plentiful, so lighting control was a focal point for DPA, allowing the space to transition seamlessly from day to night. Guestrooms are modest yet appear spacious due to various 'floating' light sources defining sleep, relaxation and work zones. The result is an impressive working of materials, planes and volumes that connect and float, with lighting playing an integral part to their harmony.

INNERMOST

Membrane

Innermost has partnered with German designer Jette Scheib to introduce a new pendant lamp, Membrane, into its quirky blown glass range. A tactile, sculptural piece, Membrane captures the precise moment bulb and shade become one, with its voluptuous glass form giving way to penetrating light sources. Details such as a gentle gradient in smoky glass coupled with polished gunmetal fittings result in a sophisticated design well suited to upscale interiors.
